Honour Mandela by fighting poverty and violence

THE TRIPLE CHALLENGES of unemployment, poverty and inequality are at the root of many social issues. They can lead to anger and violence. This year, Mandela Month is dedicated to fighting these challenges, which will help free South Africa from the cycle of violence.

Noluthando Motswai

In July we celebrate the birth and legacy of Nelson Mandela. Government has called on all South Africans to honour his memory by working together to make women and children safer.

Every year on 18 July – Mandela's birthday – the people of South Africa and the world set aside time to make a difference in their communities. Nelson Mandela International Day, declared by the UN in 2009, commemorates the service of Mandela.

As President Mandela once said: "Our children are our greatest treasure. They are our future. Those who abuse them tear the fabric of our society and weaken our nation."

This year's Mandela Day will be dedicated to fighting poverty.

The Nelson Mandela Foundation points out that poverty is the root cause of much of the violence in South African society.

The foundation's CEO, Sello Hatang, has said, "People must be reminded that it's not just about doing 67 minutes of good and that we must bring about sustainable social change in the lives of our people."

"In the heart of it, we're saying the violence that is rooted

OR Tambo on Nelson Mandela: "His inspiration lives on in the heart of every African patriot. He is the symbol of the self-sacrificing leadership our struggle has thrown up and our people need. He is unrelenting, yet capable of flexibility and delicate judgment. He is an outstanding individual, but he knows that he derives his strength from the great masses of people, who make up the freedom struggle in our country."
