R100 million to fight GBVF

Silusapho Nyanda

For four years, Ntombobolo Mrubata (38) did not know that she was in an emotionally abusive relationship.

She was involved with a man who continuously hurled insults at her and made her feel worthless.

"The emotional abuse I was subjected to made me feel small and belittled. I felt like I was nothing and could not do anything for myself. This man would even restrict my movement, he basically owned me. My self-confidence had reached rock bottom, I never thought that I could get out of that dark hole," said Mrubata.

Mrubata who originates from Eden in Western Cape, eventually gained the courage to leave the abusive relationship after attending an information session facilitated by the Bitou Women of Change NGO.

"This information session really opened my eyes. I was not aware of the other forms of abuse, especially those that did not involve physical harm. I realised that I too was being abused." I spoke to the coordinator after the session and she invited me to get counselling and life skills training that would help me leave the relationship for good," says Mrubata.

Mrubata received skills on how to start a business, computer skills and currently working towards obtaining a driver's license with the assistance of the Bitou Women of Change.

"With the information I received from Bitou Women for Change, I managed to start a small business to sustain myself. I sell chips and fat cakes. This business has given me the
